Gov. Pattison Tells the Senate Why HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 13 .- The senate met in extra session at noon today. In his message the governor reviews the arrest and conviction of Philadelphia's treasurer, John Bardsley, for the unlawful use of city and state funds.

The governor mentions cases where it appears as though Auditor General McCamant, State Treasurer Boyer and Cashier Livsey had connived with Bardsley to defraud the state out of large sums of money, and closes by saying: "I submit this summery of the facts touching the administration of these tree dearstments admitted and testified to by two departments, admitted and testified to by their chief officers before a joint committee of the legislature, in order that the senate may de-termine the action appropriate in the premises." RAN THROUGH SEVERE STORMS. Stories Told by Steamships Arriving at New York Today. New York, Oct. 13.—The story of incoming vessels this morning is a renetition of vester day's story. Chief among the Atlantic liners to put into port this morning was the Guion line steamer Alaska. She was overdue thirtysix hours.

The purser of the Alaska said: "We had an awful stormy time, but weathered through all right. From last Sunday week, when we left Queenstown, until yesterday morning we had nothing but strong westerly gales. We had no accidents on board to amount to anything. The assistant purser's arm is in a sling from a sprain he received during one of the gales. That is all. There was considerable suffering both among cabin passengers and steerage from seasickness. The Alaska was in no way injured by her stormy journey.

"In addition to a great many cabin passengers she had 434 in the steerage."

The steamer Polynesia of the Hamburg-American line arrived safely this morning. She was two days overdue. Capt. Francis' log is a record of storms, squalls and unusually heavy seas. All on board were safe and well on arrival.

The Slavonia, from Hamburg, also arrived in port. She had 283 mmigrants on board.

There are now several liners everdue, but it is probable that they will reach port all right.

The first impression which might naturally be formed of the visit of the Russian minister of foreign affairs (in view of recent political happenings) to the King of Italy would be that some important negotiations were in progress. A Gold Spoon for Baby Ruth. The young daughter of ex-President Grove Cleveland is to be the object of special attention at the dinner of the Clover Club in Philalelphia next Thursday night. It is expected that the young lady will be represented by her father's old and time-tried friend, Daniel Lamont, who will accept congratulations of the club members for the entire Cleveland family. Baby Ruth is to be presented with a gold spoon, which is to be something unusually elaborate. Of course the spoon will be the regulation "pap" spoon, which is supposed to be considerably larger than the ordinary teaspoon, but not quite so lerge as a tablespoon.

The handle of the spoon will be a four-leaf clover made of solid beaten gold. Along the stem will be elegant fliagree work. On the inside of the bowl of the spoon will be the follow. side of the bowl of the spoon will be the follow-ing inscription: "To Ruth Cleveland. From the Clover Club."

It is supposed that Mr. Lamont will start in to make a speech acknowledging the beautiful spoon on behalf of Baby Ruth. Bets are freely offered that Mr. Lamont will not get through his speech without breaking down a few times, as the members are busily engaged in preparing a few questions on the subject which Mr. Cleveland is undoubtedly the only man who can answer correctly.

Rauge Cattle Statistics.

The census office has issued a bulletin giving tatistics of the range cattle industry in the United States, not including cattle on farms. It is stated that since the census of 1880 great changes have taken place in the industry of range cattle. Large areas once used as ranges are now inclosed as farms and the cattle are driven to new and distant feeding grounds. A large portion of Texas, Colorado, Oregon, Washington and California, one-third of Kansas and one-half of Nebraska have been converted into farms during the last decade. The inand one-nair or Nobraska have been converted into farms during the last decade. The industry is found to be more generally prosperous at this time than for several years previous.
